Scottburgh Beach Closure

MEDIA RELEASE

Wednesday, 18 December 2019

Due to fresh winds experienced over the long weekend, the shark safety gear at Scottburgh beach moved out of its normal position. This led to the gear being removed from the water and bathing being closed.

We are hoping that the gear will be rectified tomorrow Thursday, 19 December 2019 if conditions allow. However, it will still be the lifeguard's discretion whether bathing is opened or banned, as the local river is still flowing through the bathing area which has led to poor water quality in the area.
